

Gurdip Singh Profile

Gurdip Singh was President & CEO of Crescendas MEC Group since its inception in 1992 till 2012, when its business was sold to a SGX listed company. Over the 20 years, he set up manufacturing plants in Singapore, Malaysia, Indonesia and China. His excellent ability to use his financial skills in general management and manufacturing operations provided a good platform, which enabled Crescendas MEC to receive 5 consecutive Enterprise 50 Awards (Singapore's 50 most promising private companies) from 1998 to 2002.

Over the past 30 years, since graduating from Singapore University with a Bachelor of Accountancy (Honours) degree, he has built up his experience both in the finance and senior management areas in Singapore, Australia, Japan, USA, Malaysia and Thailand; ranging from Regional Financial Director of Molex Inc (a US MNC) to President & CEO Crescendas MEC (a home grown regional manufacturing group) and during this period he has gained extensive international exposure.

He is also active community leader as the Chairman of Singapore Khalsa Association Board of Trustees, Chairman of Sikh Welfare Council, Vice President of Central Sikh Gurdwara Board, Singapore. He also chaired the World Schools Debating Championship in Singapore in 2002; the first time this mega event was held in Asia.

His contributions to the community and nation building were recognised when he was featured in a book published by the Young Sikh Association, Singapore titled "Singapore at 50 - 50 Sikhs and Their Contribution", which was launched by Mr Lee Hsien Loong, Prime Minister of Singapore on 28th November 2015.

Gurdip Singh is currently an Adjunct Faculty at Singapore Management University, teaching both the Post Graduate and Undergraduate Programs.
